An Evening with Tom Stuart-Smith

“Show Gardens and Real Gardens”

Original Photo by Andrew Lawson

International landscape designer, Tom Stuart-Smith from Bedmond, will talk about making ephemeral gardens at flower shows, and how this relates to his work making gardens that last a bit longer. Tom has a reputation for creating gardens that combine naturalism and modernity. He'll also talk about his work at the 2018 Chelsea Flower Show, as shown on TV. Of past gardens at Chelsea, eight of these have been awarded gold medals, and three have won 'Best in Show'.
